

1. Your team is working on a project with a strict deadline, but a critical team member is unavailable. What should you do?

- A) Wait until the team member returns
- B) Assign the work to another capable member ✓
- C) Complain to the manager
- D) Postpone the deadline

Your answer: B ✓

---

2. A client has requested an urgent feature change. What is the best way to handle it?

- A) Immediately implement it without analyzing the impact
- B) Inform the client about possible delays and risks ✓
- C) Ignore the request until the next release
- D) Refuse the request as it wasn't in the original agreement

Your answer: B ✓

---

3. During a meeting, a senior colleague criticizes your work in front of others. How should you respond?

- A) Argue back and defend your work aggressively
- B) Listen calmly and ask for constructive feedback ✓
- C) Leave the meeting angrily
- D) Report the colleague to HR immediately

Your answer: B ✓

---

4. Your company's internal software has a security flaw that could be exploited. What is the best course of action?

- A) Ignore it, as no incidents have occurred yet
- B) Privately report the issue to the security team ✓
- C) Announce the issue on social media to warn others
- D) Try to fix it yourself without informing anyone

Your answer: B ✓

---

5. You receive an email that appears to be from your IT department asking for your password. What should you do?

- A) Reply with your password since it's from IT
- B) Delete the email and ignore it
- C) Verify the email's authenticity with IT ✓
- D) Click the link and change your password immediately

Your answer: C ✓

---

6. A junior employee made a critical mistake that could impact the project. What should you do?

- A) Blame the employee in front of the team
- B) Help them understand the mistake and fix it together ✓
- C) Report them to the manager immediately
- D) Ignore it and let the manager handle it

Your answer: B ✓

---

7. Your manager asks you to work overtime, but you have personal commitments. What is the best response?

- A) Refuse outright without explanation
- B) Negotiate for a flexible solution ✓
- C) Agree but perform poorly due to exhaustion
- D) Quit the job due to work pressure

Your answer: B ✓

---

8. Your colleague is struggling with a task you are skilled at. What should you do?

- A) Ignore them and focus on your work
- B) Offer to help and guide them ✓
- C) Take over the task completely
- D) Complain to the manager about their inefficiency

Your answer: B ✓

---

9. A client gives you negative feedback about a project you worked hard on. How should you respond?

- A) Defend your work and ignore their concerns
- B) Take the feedback positively and find ways to improve ✓
- C) Blame your team for the shortcomings
- D) Ask the client to reconsider their feedback

Your answer: B ✓

---

10. A deadline is approaching, and you realize you won't complete your work on time. What should you do?

- A) Hide the delay from your manager
- B) Inform your manager and suggest a realistic solution ✓
- C) Work overtime without notifying anyone
- D) Blame external factors for the delay

Your answer: B ✓

---

11. You accidentally deleted an important company file. What should you do?

- A) Restore it from the backup system ✓
- B) Stay quiet and hope no one notices
- C) Blame it on a system error
- D) Try to recreate the file from memory

Your answer: A ✓

---

12. Your company is transitioning to a new technology, and you lack experience in it. What should you do?

- A) Ignore it and continue using old methods
- B) Take initiative to learn the new technology ✓
- C) Complain about the transition
- D) Refuse to work on projects using the new technology

Your answer: B ✓

---

13. Your manager assigns you a task outside your expertise. What is the best way to handle it?

- A) Refuse to do it
- B) Try to learn and complete the task with guidance ✓
- C) Delegate it to another team member
- D) Delay the task until you have more experience

Your answer: B ✓

---

14. A competitor offers you money for confidential company data. What should you do?

- A) Accept the offer secretly
- B) Report the incident to your manager ✓
- C) Ignore the offer and keep working ✓
- D) Share only minor details to stay safe

Your answer: B ✓

---

15. Your internet is down while working remotely, and you have an urgent deadline. What should you do?

- A) Use a mobile hotspot or find alternative internet access ✓
- B) Wait for the internet to return
- C) Tell your manager you can't work
- D) Take the day off

Your answer: A ✓

16. Your project requires a new tool, but your company has not approved its purchase. What should you do?

- A) Buy the tool yourself and get reimbursed later
- B) Discuss with management and justify the tool's necessity ✓
- C) Use unauthorized alternatives
- D) Ignore the tool and continue with existing resources

Your answer: B ✓

---

17. You receive an error in the software that has never been seen before. What should you do?

- A) Ignore it and continue working
- B) Document the error and research possible solutions ✓
- C) Blame it on the system and move on
- D) Delete the software and reinstall it without investigation

Your answer: B ✓

---

18. A teammate is struggling with their assigned task and is delaying the project. What should you do?

- A) Complain to the manager
- B) Offer to help or collaborate on the task ✓
- C) Ignore them and focus on your own work
- D) Suggest removing them from the project

Your answer: B ✓

---

19. Your company is implementing a new cybersecurity policy, but some employees are resistant. What is the best approach?

- A) Ignore the policy and continue with old practices
- B) Help educate and encourage employees on the benefits ✓
- C) Report resistant employees to management
- D) Avoid using cybersecurity measures until everyone agrees

Your answer: B ✓

---

20. You realize that a software bug has caused incorrect billing for a client. What should you do?

- A) Hide the issue and hope no one notices
- B) Report the bug immediately and work on a fix ✓
- C) Blame the client for incorrect input
- D) Delay fixing it to avoid extra work

Your answer: B ✓

---

21. You are asked to lead a new project, but you have no experience in project management. What should you do?

- A) Decline the opportunity
- B) Accept the role and seek guidance from experienced colleagues ✓
- C) Take control without learning the necessary skills
- D) Assign most of the work to your team and avoid responsibility

Your answer: B ✓

---

22. A team member frequently misses deadlines, affecting the project timeline. How should you handle this?

- A) Publicly call them out in meetings
- B) Have a private conversation to understand the issue and offer support ✓
- C) Ignore it and let management handle it
- D) Work extra hours to cover for them without discussing it

Your answer: B ✓

---

23. Your company is moving to a hybrid work model. What is the best way to adapt?

- A) Stay flexible and balance remote and in-office work effectively ✓
- B) Work only remotely and avoid office interactions
- C) Refuse to adapt and insist on a fixed schedule
- D) Quit the job due to the change

Your answer: A ✓

---

24. You receive an urgent request from your manager while working on another important task. How do you respond?

- A) Ignore the new request until you finish your current task
- B) Assess priorities and communicate with your manager for guidance ✓
- C) Work on both tasks at the same time without focus
- D) Ask a colleague to handle the request without informing your manager

Your answer: B ✓

---

25. You are working on a project, but your team is facing frequent miscommunication. How can you improve collaboration?

- A) Avoid unnecessary communication and work independently
- B) Schedule regular meetings and use collaborative tools ✓
- C) Only communicate with your manager about issues
- D) Ignore communication issues and hope they resolve themselves

Your answer: B ✓

26. How would you handle a situation where a high-priority project conflicts with your current workload?

- ☒ A) Prioritize tasks and manage time efficiently
- ☒ B) Discuss with the manager to reallocate work if needed
- ☐ C) Ignore the high-priority project
- ☒ D) Seek help from teammates for better workload distribution

Your answer: A, B, D ☒

---

27. A senior manager rejects your idea without explanation. How do you proceed?

- ☒ A) Politely ask for feedback to understand their perspective
- ☒ B) Revise your idea and present it with supporting data
- ☐ C) Argue with the manager and insist your idea is the best
- ☒ D) Accept their decision but stay open to future improvements

Your answer: A, B, D ☒

---

28. A client requests a feature that's not feasible within the given time. How do you manage expectations?

- ☒ A) Explain the limitations and suggest an alternative solution
- ☒ B) Break down the feature into phases and deliver what's possible
- ☐ C) Commit to the feature without considering feasibility
- ☒ D) Negotiate a realistic timeline with the client

Your answer: A, B, D ☒

---

29. You suspect a colleague is leaking company data. What do you do?

- ☒ A) Gather evidence before making an accusation
- ☒ B) Report the issue to the security team or management
- ☐ C) Confront them publicly in a team meeting
- ☒ D) Follow the company's data security protocols

Your answer: A, B, D ☒

---

30. How do you stay updated with new technologies in your industry?

- ☒ A) Attend webinars, workshops, and conferences
- ☒ B) Follow industry leaders and read tech blogs
- ☒ C) Take online courses and certifications
- ☐ D) Ignore new trends and continue using old methods

Your answer: A, B, C ☒

